Said to be

There is a small group of verbs often used in a particular way as shown below:

"People think he was involved in the murder of a banker." is better as: "He is thought to have been involved in the murder of a banker."

"People believe that the seventh child of a seventh child has special powers."

-> "The seventh child of a seventh child is believed to have special powers."

Verbs used like this are: to think, to believe, to say, to know, to report, to expect - e.g.

- "Whales are known to be able to communicate over long distances under water."
- "Da Vinci is known to have made many drawings which have been lost."

Notice the use of different tenses:

- A) "The escaped prisoner is believed to be in London." (People think he's still there.)
- 3) "The escaped prisoner is believed to have been in London." (He's probably left.)
