Hypochondria!

He lost his job through illness.

Women like the simpler things in life.

Make your M.P. work.

What about apathy?

I've told you millions of times.

"God is dead." Nietzsche.

Streakers beware.

I've half a mind to become a teacher.

Make the roads safer.

Einstein rules.

Do you have a drink problem?

We buy junk.

Do you have trouble making up your mind?

Old teachers never die.

Conserve energy.

Crime shouldn't pay.

Have you heard of Pavlov?

I used to use cliches.

Never mind the Titanic.

Your eyes are like the ocean.

God give me patience.

Drive carefully - don't kill a child.

Nothing acts faster than aspirin.

Is there intelligent life on earth?

If at first you don't succeed.

I asked for a suite with a view.

My husband sleeps under the bed.

Your mind is like a Welsh railway.

Don't complain about the beer.

This is the age of the train.

Sex is bad for one.

God made things that creep and crawl.

I can resist everything.

"Nietzsche is dead." God.

But it's very good for two.

But please hurry up about it.

But British Rail, it beats them all.

Drive on the pavement.

Except temptation.

I think he's a little potty.

I couldn't care less.

Is there any news of the iceberg?

It takes an age to catch one.

It's the only disease I haven't got.

Make love more slowly.

Men.

No, I'm just visiting.

Now I avoid them like the plague.

One track and rather dirty.

Relatively speaking.

So much for sky-diving.

Stop exaggerating.

Take nothing then.

That's all you need isn't it?

The boss got sick of him.

They gave me a Polo mint.

They just lose their class.

They make me sick.

Ummm ... that name rings a bell.

Vote for somebody else.

Wait for a teacher.

We also sell antiques.

Well, ... yes and no.

Why don't they nationalise it?

Yes - I can't afford it.

You'll be old and weak yourself one day.

Your end is in sight.
